We place great emphasis on customer service, which begins in our manufacturing facilities where we cut and polish round and fancy diamonds from 0.10 carats to 10 carats. It continues in our main office in Israel and in our Hong Kong and New York offices where each customer is treated with warm and professional care.

TEN TRADE SHOW SAFETY TIPS

Trade shows can be an effective and valuable component of your sales channel. They also pose significant safety risks. Minimize your exposure with these 10 trade show safety tips from G4S International Logistics.

- 1 Transporting merchandise personally places you – and your goods – at serious risk. Whenever possible, use an armored courier to safely deliver your goods to – and ideally inside – the trade show.
- 2 When attending more than one trade show in the same city, avoid transporting merchandise yourself. Even if the show is only a few blocks away, the risk outweighs the benefits. Use an armored courier.
- 3 During the trade show, always lock your display case or valuables safe immediately after removing a piece of merchandise for customer viewing.
- 4 For added security, set up security cameras at your booth. A minimum of two is recommended; one pointing at your display case(s) and one at your safe or storage area.
- 5 Never store merchandise in your hotel safe. Ever.
- 6 Travel with discretion. When outside the trade show floor, remove any items that could associate you with valuable merchandise, such as lanyards, badges, merchandise bags and sales collateral.
- 7 When attending a cash and carry show, don't take the term "cash and carry" literally; Ship purchases back to your store.
- 8 Help keep the trade show safe for others. When you leave the show for a final time, rip up or otherwise destroy your credentials.
- 9 If you must travel with merchandise, never check it as baggage. And, when going through security, request a private screening.
- 10 Get in the practice of changing your travel routes when traveling to and from your place of business. And, if you are carrying anything of value, never make a stop. Gas stations, ATMs, and other quick stops can expose you to theft. ■
